

AMERICAN CONSERVATION EXPERIENCE Cultural Resources Diversity Internship Program

The Cultural Resources Diversity Internship Program (CRDIP) is a professional development internship that introduces students and recent graduates, from backgrounds historically underrepresented in the National Park Service, to career opportunities within Cultural Resource Management.

Program Details:

- 12 week summer internship with host sites all over the country that change from year to year
- Positions range from archaeology, museum/archives, research, public outreach, interp/education, tribal outreach/relations, GIS, and more!
- Multiple positions available with the Direct Hire Authority (DHA) program

Program Requirements:

- Eligible for participants age 18-30 (up to 35 for veterans, and 21+ for positions with work-related driving)
- U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- Ability to pass a federal criminal history check
- For Direct Hire Authority (DHA) internships, applicants must also:
  - be currently enrolled in a post-secondary education program
  - be able to provide proof of enrollment

Program Benefits:

- Housing or reimbursements provided by host site
- Biweekly living allowance
- Network with and learn from NPS and ACE staff
- Professional development webinars throughout the term
- Americorps Education Award
- Hours towards a Public Land Corps Certificate
- Direct Hire Authority Certificate for DHA member

Questions?

Samira Rosario Martinez
CRDIP Member Coordinator
ACE EPIC NPS
srosario-martinez@usaconservation.org

*The DHA Certificate (for DHA CRDIP members only) is a non-competitive hiring authority that can assist in obtaining a permanent, full time federal position through special qualification on USAJobs.